

Dog Training Elite Chattanooga offers group training sessions after intensive in-home obedience training is completed. All dogs must be trained and fully immunized in order to participate. Owners are expected to adhere to daily training sessions to ensure their dog is ready for the group experience. Dog obedience classes in Chattanooga are held on a consistent basis in various locations and environments in and around the Chattanooga area.

Our dog group training sessions are designed to place the dog in public places surrounded by other dogs, people, smells, and sounds. This exposure helps to create a solid, confident dog that obeys the owners, regardless of the many distractions screaming for their attention!
